Rent, Price Controls Will Be Challenged in Courts

By Dick Jackson

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, June 3.—(AP)—Authority of the Dominion government to further maintain rent and price control would be challenged in the courts through "A number of test cases, W. J. Leclair of Ottawa, president of the Canadian Property Owners' Association announced yesterday.

This marked the first serious threat to the constitutionality of the federal fabric of control over the Canadian economy.

The Property Owners' Association representing landlords in cities across Canada, will take the position that the government's authority to regulate the economy was justified only by the existence of an emergency situation.

The government through parliament has continued exercising the powers of rent and price control, initially imposed during the early years of the war, on grounds that an emergency existed.

Parliament in passing control legislation contained first in the War Emergency Powers Act and currently in the Transitional Emergency Powers Act, has taken the position that the government's authority to regulate the economy was justified only by the existence of an emergency situation.

The landlords, at a closed meeting of their board of directors at Toronto Tuesday, decided to test the question of emergency in the courts.

Decision to appeal on constitutional grounds against the federal government's fabric of rent and price control means that the entire operation of regulation of the economy will be suspended in the event of a court ruling against Ottawa's extraordinary powers.

If the association should establish that a war-time "emergency" no longer existed, government control over the economy of rent and price would be taken away.

Property owners would be free to increase rental levels without fear of price board prosecution and to all intents and purposes, control would have ended.

B.C. Flood Victims Hopeful As Rivers Show Slight Drop

TELEGRAPH LINK WITH VANCOUVER SEVERED

Temporarily, at least, air today is the only means of communication between Vancouver and the rest of Canada.

A break in commercial telegraph lines at Dewdney, B.C., six miles east of Mission, threw out the country's land lines with the west coast, scene of havoc and disruption through uncontrolled floods.

The province's last rail link—the Great Northern system's run to Seattle, Wash.—went out yesterday.

Radio and plane services are the only remaining means.

Telegraph men, however, said the Dewdney break would be repaired in matter of hours. Meanwhile army signals at Western Command Headquarters, relayed commercial messages for both Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Telegraphs.

UN Mediator Will Fix Date of Truce

CAIRO, June 3.—(AP)—Jewish forces battling to retain the lost impetus of their attack into the Arab triangle in north central Palestine have occupied several strategic points at the approaches to Jenin, Israeli headquarters announced today.

On the Palestine coast, Israeli and Egyptian forces battled near Iddud, 25 miles south of Tel Aviv, where Israeli headquarters said. No details were given.

Arab planes bombed the Tel Aviv area again today.

A Reuters Cairo dispatch said the Cairo newspaper Al Balagh claimed Thursday night that Tel Aviv is being shelled by Egyptian artillery from a point about three miles southeast of the city.

The Jews said they lost the initiative of the offensive yesterday morning when they mistakenly ordered a cease-fire on the assumption that the United Nations Security Council had so directed.

As the UN mediator set about the task of fixing a date for the start of a four-week truce, King Farouk of Egypt echoed the vow of King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan that the Arab nations "will never under any circumstances accept a Jewish state."

The mediator, Swedish Count Folke Bernadotte, working out of Cairo, was told to fix the day and hour by the UN Security Council.

The council's plan for an armistice had been accepted Tuesday by both sides—the Israeli government of the Jews and the Arab League political committee under the five Arab countries with troops in the Holy Land.

Israel's States was said to want the truce to start by Sunday. But Jamal Husseini of the Palestine Arab Higher Council, a military reporter five days would be needed to give Arab fighters the word.

MISUNDERSTANDING
 Israel's night called off a cease-fire order in effect less than a day on the Jewish side. A Tel Aviv announcement said the order had been based on a misunderstanding.

Earlier, Israel had accused the Arabs of breaking the presumed cease-fire and said unless they quit shooting by sunset, "we shall reserve the right to resume major operations."

Bernadotte was instructed to conduct a cease-fire in the UN's American-Belgian-French truce commission in Jerusalem in deciding when hostilities should stop.

Shortage of Lumber is Threatened

City Building Will Suffer Due to B.C. Flood Situation

A serious lumber shortage, which may last five months, is threatening Edmonton on a building. This is the summary of a Bulletin survey taken today among city lumber dealers.

The lumber shortage will probably begin in Edmonton late in July, and is expected to last until December.

Cause of the expected shortage is the British Columbia flood situation.

Reg. Booth, secretary of the Edmonton Lumber Dealers Association, told The Bulletin today: "We feel that the middle of summer, common stocks will be cleaned up here."

He stated the shortage will hit late July.

Supplies two-by-fours, boards, and shiplap will be the first lumber stocks to disappear.

Shortage of fir as result of B.C. floods is also expected.

We don't get much new lumber until December or January, and then it will be green," Mr. Booth said.

Most city lumber dealers agree that there will be a midsummer lumber shortage.

Some dealers describe their present stocks as "good," but don't expect them to last more than about three months.

"Edmontonians who expect to build this summer are going to be in a tight spot," Mr. Booth said.

P. G. Cook, general manager of Imperial Lumber Co., Ltd., told The Bulletin his company expects no shortage of lumber stocks.

However, he stated that interior B.C. floods have begun cancelling orders for lumber.

W. A. McLean, manager of Armistice-McLean Lumber Co., Ltd., said the situation at "nip and tuck."

"It doesn't look good at all," he said.

All shipments of lumber from B.C. have been halted by the present railway embargo on all east-bound freight.

Embargo will remain "until further notice," he said.

YOUTH FACES MURDER COUNT

A 20-year-old farm hand has been charged with the slaying of William Pacholek, 34-year-old bachelor farmer of Spadina, 130 West 12th Avenue.

In custody on a murder charge is Michael Zacharak, a former employee of the dead man.

Object of a five-day police-civilian manhunt, the body of Pacholek was found about 30 miles west of Spadina on Tuesday afternoon.

Police believe the body was dragged to the ditch where it was found, after the shooting occurred on Pacholek's farm.

Zacharak was arrested by police Tuesday on charges of first degree murder.

9,000 Persons Are Reported Homeless

By Edwin Fricke

VANCOUVER, June 3.—(CP)—There was one big question today in the minds of 1,000,000 flood-weary persons in British Columbia: "Is the worst over?"

With nearly 60,000 acres a watery waste, 9,000 persons homeless and $30,000,000 of devastation, "Valley-of-Misery" residents hopefully eyed the slow drop of the Fraser at Mission, 40 miles east of here, from 24.41 to 24.09 early today.

At Kamloops in the north Okanagan the Thompson river showed a similar fractional fall from 20.2 to 20.7. Reports from the North Thompson watershed also indicated the river was dropping slowly in the mountains.

But while flood-fronts in the Kootenays reported relief in most areas, the smelter city of Trail, 230 miles from Vancouver, said grimly its situation was "unchanged" as the Columbia river overflowed into low-lying homes.

The nearby village of Castlegar which received its last shipment of food two weeks ago, was isolated at midnight last night when the ferry service over the rising Columbia was cut off.

Starvation in the Fraser Valley was centred in the Chilliwack area. The once-thriving city in the heart of the fruit farming district was "practically lost," the navy reported early today.

Deaths Toll Now Five

Logs were jamming up on the nearby Rosedale ferry bridge and army engineers were prepared to dynamite it if the pile-up continued to threaten the dike above.

Meanwhile the B.C. flood death toll has risen to five with the finding of the body of Easter Young Hicks, 76-year-old prospector, in a log jam at Peffer Creek north of Kamloops.

Army and civilian authorities kept a close check for outbreaks of disease. Medical staff units were patrolling the Fraser valley giving typhoid injections to flood victims.

Two hundred cases of measles already had broken out in Oliver where the domestic water supply was flooded.

One hundred soldiers of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry were to be flown to B.C. today from Calgary with a second detachment Friday.

Premier Johnson said they were to be used to reinforce army diking crews, however, unnamed anti-looting patrols were keeping a 24-hour watch in flooded parts of Mission city and similar patrols were being organized in the valley's Dewdney and Deroche areas.

Columbia Threatening New Havoc in Oregon

By Roger Johnson

PORTLAND, Ore., June 3.—(BUP)—A second flood crest piled up in the upper reaches of the Columbia River already wrought in the Pacific Northwest's greatest spring thaw disaster.

The upper Columbia and its principal tributary, the Snake, generated a new flood to south of the Canadian border while weary workers battled the old crest on weakened embankments between Portland and Astoria.

SNOW PACK MELTS
 The hot sun melted a deep snow pack in the mountains, sending a fresh load of water into the winding Columbia.

Elmer Fisher, U.S. weather bureau forecaster, said the Columbia was rising from 100 to 150 feet to the mouth of the Snake river.

The lower Snake, after a brief recession, rose again and was expected to rise for at least two or three days, Fisher said.

This, he explained, meant that the Columbia, after receding slightly from its Wednesday morning peak in the Portland area, will start climbing again to a danger level of 100,000 HOMELESS.

The Columbia will drop from its crest of 29.9 feet to 28.4 feet on Saturday, then move up again to 28.7 on Sunday, said Fisher, "but the Columbia at Portland may come up substantially again."

The river will not get back up to the crest it reached Tuesday. If it does, the floods, and an estimated $100,000,000 damage, caused to crops and property.

The Columbia and other rivers in streams throughout the Pacific northwest already have inflicted widespread destruction in which 100,000 persons were homeless or temporarily displaced, 30 were drowned or died from causes attributed to the floods, and an estimated $100,000,000 damage, caused to crops and property.

BARBARA CUTS FIGURES —On Dollar Shortage

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(CP)—Barbara Ann Scott didn't bring along her skates, but still she managed today to cut a few figures—on Canada's shortage of American dollars.

Canada's world figure-skating professional, skating star of the Scott queen has just added another crown to her many achievements—queen on the United States Junior Chambers of Commerce, now in convention here.

In a speech the newly-turned professional skater admitted she hadn't packed her skates, she felt "terribly" out of her element without them.

But there were more than school figures and free figures of the skating world. There were other figures "pretty important."

Explaining to Americans why there are import controls in Canada and restrictions on holiday travel was the kind of "figure-skating" she now wanted to do.

The world champion, who turned professional Monday by signing a contract with Music Corporation of America Artists, concluded on a note of thanks. The American people "were wonderful to me while I was skating in the world and Olympic tournaments over in Europe last winter."

Some of your national magazines even reproduced the exact figures I was going to skate to show how they were both simple and intricate at the same time," she said.

She said that if your great organization can stimulate the same interest in these other figures, then your country and mine can go on to another and more important world championships.

PIPE "DREAM" SHATTERS WINDSHIELD

John H. McCallum, 9009 96 street, told police, the windshield of his car was suddenly shattered while he was driving west on a lane north of Jasper avenue, between 101 and 102 streets.

When he stopped his car, he said he found three lengths of copper pipe protruding six feet into the lane from the back of a truck.

The truck was parked some distance off the lane roadway. McCallum told police the sun shining in his eyes prevented him from seeing the piping.

He was not injured by the collision.

Army Padre Addresses Rotary

Trials in the life of an Army padre were related by Rev. Edgar Bailey at the meeting of the Rotary Club Thursday noon in the Macdonald Hotel.

Life of the padre was a busy one, Rev. Bailey said with no defined limits to the duties except to fill the gaps on the human side of life in the army.

He spent five years as padre of the first Canadian Division during the war. Three of the years were spent in Britain and the last two with the Loyal Edmonton Regiment in Sicily and Italy.

ON TO STAMPEDE

Planning Big Campaign To Elect Miss Edmonton

The old slogan "Vote as you please, but please vote" is going to be changed a little this week. On Saturday, Edmontonians are going to be asked to vote, but there's just one candidate.

That's 17-year-old Joan Parley, Miss Edmonton.

Lithesome Joan is one of 16 Alberta candidates contesting the title of Miss Calgary Stampede. She can't win without votes, and the votes have to come from citizens of Edmonton who buy those votes—25 votes for two-bits. So on Saturday, members of the Edmonton Federation of Community Leagues are holding Miss Edmonton Day.

They're going to be selling those vote tickets on city streets. A parade sponsored by the Federation will start Miss Edmonton Day.

At 11 a.m. Saturday, Edmonton Schoolboys' Band will lead the parade down Jasper avenue. Floats and decorated cars from each community league will be present, to make sure that Edmontonians don't miss Miss Edmonton Day.

And here's a note to the younger set: Prizes will be awarded to owners of the best decorated bicycles in the parade.

First prize will be $5, second $3, third $2.

Anybody's bike can be entered.

Over Four Million Slated For Building Record Building Boom Forecast if Supplies Good

Edmonton appears set to top all Canada for home building this year on a per capita basis.

Since Tuesday the city architect's office issued 100 home building permits with a value of $636,750.

This brings the total to date this year to $4,157,550 compared with $2,273,900 for the same period last year, an increase of $1,883,650.

The number of home building permits issued so far this year is 722 compared with 479 for the 1947 period, an increase of 243.

Seventy-six of the permits issued in the first two days of June were to city contractors working under the Dominion government's integrated housing plan.

Twenty-four were issued to persons building their own homes.

Other home building projects for Edmonton this year include 230 homes for veterans to be erected by Wartime Housing Ltd., a Crown company.

This project is estimated to cost $1,500,000.

An agreement was signed recently between the City of Edmonton and the Crown company, covering this contract. Tenders have been called, returnable at Winnipeg, June 15.

TENDERS CALLED

The call for tenders requests bids in multiples of 50 houses, and for a tender for the entire project.

The Department of National Defence also will erect 50 houses for service personnel near Kingsway.

This project is estimated to cost $650,000.

Sites for the Wartime Housing project, and also for the Kingsway construction have been allocated by the city land department.

It is anticipated that several hundred more houses will be erected here by city contractors under the integrated housing plan.

Several recent subdivisions, made by the city for allocation to contractors have been held up because of shortage of draftsmen to prepare plans for registration with the land titles office.

LAND PURCHASED

Purchases of city owned land by private builders since the beginning of the construction season indicates that at least 400 homes will be erected through this labor source.

Unless drastic changes in the building materials supply situation occurs, Edmonton's home-building program this year may reach the 1,700 mark.

E. I. Clarke took out a permit for $30,000 covering a brick and concrete addition to a garage building at 10344 107 street.

Edmonton to Have New $250,000 Building

Construction of a modern steel-brick two-storey building and remodelling of the former structure at a total cost of $250,000, is announced today by Kenn's Service Garage Ltd.

Excavation has already started for the new building to be erected immediately to the south of the present garage at 109 street and 100 avenue.

Murray Montague, president of Kenn's Service Garage Ltd., said it is hoped to have the new building completed by the late fall.

Poole Construction Co. Ltd. has been awarded the main contract.

The new two-storey structure will occupy an area of 100x140 feet.

The two-storey building will be 100 feet high and the one-storey extension 100 feet.

When completed the building will be one of the most up-to-date garages in Canada and will have a fine car show room.

The new construction was made necessary by the firm's expanding business brought on by Edmonton's rapid growth, Mr. Montague said.

Kenn's Service Garage Ltd. has the agency for Chrysler's and Plymouth cars.

Two Albertans to Get Honorary Degrees

Honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws will be presented to Hon. James A. MacKinnon and Dr. A. E. Archer by the University of Alberta.

Decision was made at a recent meeting of the Senate of the University.

The degrees will be awarded at fall convocation in October when Mr. MacKinnon will give the Convocation address.

Special mention is made of Mr. MacKinnon's work as committee chairman of the Privy Council on Research during the war.

"Mr. MacKinnon has helped the University actively and effectively," the announcement said.

Peace River Passes Peak

Danger of the rushing Peace River spreading out over the town of the same name, in northern Alberta, was almost completely eased today as the river started a faster drop.

A huge 1,100-foot long dike has been holding back the waters, but now the level has receded to below the dike.

The river dropped about one foot since Wednesday night and is now more than two feet below its peak of last Sunday.

It is now within its banks, but some of the old-time residents, fear another rise will come from a heavy run-off of water from the mountains later this month.

Commended for Efficiency

LAC LA BICHE, June 3.—On Monday, May 31 the Lac La Biche division of the Exeter Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps was inspected by Cmdr. R. Pike of Edmonton. This was the annual inspection and the corps put forth every effort to make this one of the best exhibitions of cadet work and seamanship since its inception.

The inspecting party was met on arrival by the entire ships company and they presented a colorful scene as they were wearing their tannels and white topped caps. After a brief review the cadets marched to the Memorial Hall led by their newly-formed bugle band.

The inspecting party was then taken aboard the Exeter for a cruise on the lake. After the cruise the party was tendered a dinner held in the Sea Cadet headquarters and prepared by the Sea Cadet Mothers' Club. This function was quite a get-together as the parents of the boys and members of the school division were also present.

The full annual inspection commenced at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Hall. Cmdr. Pike was piped aboard and officially received by the CO of the corps, Rev. J. E. McGraw, Lieut. H.C.M.C. He was then presented to Lieut. J. Wolstenholme, DCM, executive officer of the corps and from then on a very methodical inspection and demonstration of seamanship, squad drill, signalling, knots and splices and general cadet work was held.

Thank goodness Libby's are extra-easy-to-digest

Because a baby's digestive system is immature, his first solid foods often cause digestive upsets. Even foods which have been commercially strained contain many irritating coarse fibres and unbroken food cells which baby's digestive juices have a hard time penetrating.

But Libby's Foods, the only foods which are first strained, then homogenized, seldom cause digestive upsets. This is because Libby's exclusive homogenization process explodes the food cells and pulverizes the tough fibres.

Salt Plant Slated for Lindbergh

The salt plant at Lindbergh, 30 miles east of St. Paul, north of the North Saskatchewan river, will be improved shortly by the addition of a chemical plant.

The salt beds, which form the basis of the industry, have been found suitable for chemical processing.

First step in the increase in plant facilities, will be in the erection of a plant to make caustic soda and chlorine.

Officials of the provincial department of economic affairs, who released the information today, said expenditure contemplated will be greater than the original investment in the plant.

Presence of the salt bed was discovered while Alberta oil companies were drilling for oil.

A number of major oil companies in the province are said to be interested in the development.

Wrathful Fraser River Rolls Relentlessly in Destructive Rampage

RAMPAGING FRASER RIVER flows right up to Vancouver's back door in this aerial photo of the Trapp Road area in nearby Burnaby. Homes are isolated as water relentlessly spills its banks. This flood scene is only eight miles from Vancouver's City Hall, indicating scope of flood which rages from suburban Burnaby through entire Fraser Valley and interior B.C.

VALUABLE FARMLANDS in Fraser Valley lie inundated, their crops ruined, cattle drowned or driven to higher ground. Note white stretch of road in foreground and where it ends, covered by flood water. Thousands of acres of rich land in Fraser Valley now lie flooded. Flood relief fund, launched in B.C. Monday, gives hope to farmers in that it may permit them to plant new crops when river subsides.

Matt Berry Mooted As Political Prospect

Pioneer bushland pilot, A. M. "Matt" Berry is to enter the political arena, according to word from the far north.

Veteran residents of both the Yukon and North West Territories say Berry is to contest the next Dominion elections as an independent candidate for the combined Yukon-N.W.T. constituency.

Hon. George P. Black, M.P., who has represented the Yukon since the turn of the century, has announced his intention of retiring from politics at the end of his present term.

"You hear a lot of rumors these days I have no comment," Mr. Berry told The Edmonton Bulletin, when asked if he will be a candidate for the federal parliament.

Although Mr. Berry has his home in Edmonton, he has spent most of his time in the north for many years.

Berry was among those daring pioneers who blazed aerial trails to the far north in the 1920's.

During the war years he assisted in the setting up of a waterways transportation system on the Mackenzie river that moved equipment for the Canal pipeline.

In the past three years he has been in charge of airport construction at Yellowknife.

Political "experts" here point out that Berry would be a formidable candidate for the Yukon-N.W.T. constituency. He is well known throughout the territory and thoroughly conversant with the many problems confronting the people of the north in the post-war period.

He is staying with his son Thomas S. Magee Jr. at 10164 118 street.

Varsity Exam Results Announced June 15

Results of final examinations written by University of Alberta students this spring will be out about June 15, Registrar G. B. Taylor, told The Bulletin Wednesday.

Results will be announced through The Gateway, official Varsity student newspaper.

Copies of the paper will be mailed to students' home addresses as soon as tabulations of results are completed.

Only results which will not be included in The Gateway will be those of examinations written this month by medical students.

The medical students this year began the revised medical course which keeps them at classes until about June 10.

Entire registrars' office staff at the University is working at full speed to get results to students as soon as possible.

Many over-anxious students are harrasing the staff members with queries of "When will the results be out?"

These interruptions are only delaying us," one Varsity official told The Bulletin. He cautioned these worried students against making the fruitless queries.

Results of between 25,000 and 30,000 examinations will be included in The Gateway.

This is about 5,000 more exams than were written one year ago.

Edmonton Is Strategic Spot In Battle Against B.C. Flood

CHEATING GOVT. DOESN'T PAYOFF MAN FINDS

It doesn't pay to collect unemployment insurance if not entitled to it.

This was discovered by Alex McLeod, Edmonton, who was levied stiff fines and sentences in police court Wednesday afternoon.

McLeod was said to have collected $50.40 from the government for 20 days unemployment in January and February this year.

Evidence that he was employed during this period was presented to court.

Magistrate Millar sentenced McLeod to 30 days in jail.

On five specific charges of obtaining money McLeod was fined $50.40 and costs or 20 days to run consecutively with the previous term.

Finally he was ordered to make restitution of the $50.40 obtained in insurance.

City Airport Booming As Supplies Moved In

Edmonton has become a strategic support centre for the huge army battling floods in devastated British Columbia, 650 miles away.

Edmonton's bustling modern airport has been one of the busiest spots in the west since last weekend.

Trans-Canada Airlines have been taxed to the limit as the airlines temporarily maintain the transportation lifeline between the prairies and the Pacific coast.

RCAP personnel and equipment have also been hurried into the battle against the crippling B.C. flood waters. Practically all regular scheduled transport flights of the RCAP have been cancelled and crews and equipment diverted to the flood areas.

On the Pacific coast side of the floods there are many cars of fresh vegetables and fruits for the prairies.

VISITORS WIN REPRIEVE FROM COURT

Charges of possessing burglar tools were withdrawn against two young men from Vancouver in police court Wednesday.

John P. Hyman and John Abbott had pleaded not guilty to the charges in police court May 25.

A legal tangle developed when Abbott was additionally charged with breaking conditions of a probation sentence imposed in 1944, at Vancouver.

Following a study of Abbott's record, Magistrate Millar forwarded the charge to the supreme court.

Abbott will be kept in custody until he appears in supreme court.

Building Pace Is Maintained

There is no slackening in the pace of Edmonton's building program.

Price Andrews Ltd. took out a permit for $30,000 covering an extension to the company's workshop at 10840 104 street.

Total of permits issued during the first two days of June was $83,000.

Civic Improvements Sought By Chamber

Disposition of petitions for local improvements, secured during the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce's campaign for civic improvements waged about two years ago, will be sought by the Chamber's Civic Betterment Committee.

During the campaign numerous petitions for paving, grading, graveling, boulevards, curbs and sidewalks were presented to the city commissioners.

Lack of materials and manpower did not permit the work to be carried out.

The committee will seek from the city commissioners, information on when the projects petitioned for can be completed, and also will seek information regarding the finances to carry out these improvements.

The Civic Betterment Committee undertook the campaign for petitions following discussions with Mayor Harry Ainlay.

The commissioners at that time outlined a 10-year construction program calling for the expenditure of $750,000 annually.

The Chamber of Commerce is of the opinion that paving, apart from bus routes and arterial highways, should start from the centre of the city and work to the outskirts.

SHOPPING GUIDE

BC Flood Waters
Stop Greens Supply

By Bea Thrifty

Latest gem from the food 'n flood situation is that city shops will be barren of fresh vegetables and fruit this week-end—except for a merely mentionable supply from local producers and the Medicine Hat area.

Every cloud has a silver lining—or so goes the old adage and the silver in this cloud is that two plane-loads (6,000 pounds each) of tomatoes will arrive in the city for week-end marketing.

But more on the dark side is the result the flood will have on the fruit crops of British Columbia.

Until all this flood business all indications pointed to a bumper fruit crop.

Berries, usually well under way by June 15—will be cut off normal supply this season. As far as prices are concerned the law of supply and demand will probably keep the price of fruit to a high level.

Never rains but it pours—in a lot of ways.

Another tear-drop in our bucket of grief is the fact that tinned lobster is impossible to buy—and so is pimento.

For the past while, prices of these particular commodities have kept them off our shopping lists—but now even if you could pay exorbitant prices—you can't buy it for any kind of money.

You can say goodbye to a $10 bill if you want to buy even a very ordinary cotton dress these days.

And then you'll be a true wizard if you can find what you want for that fee... although there are a few around.

Shop early in the season if you expect any selection.

When rhubarb first makes its appearance for the season—it's generally popular served by itself.

But when the month of June is under way—enthusiasm for the fruit wanes somewhat. Pep up your rhubarb and produce a family treat by serving raspberry and rhubarb pie. You can use the fresh-frozen berries.

More pie palaverings: Don't ignore the fresh frozen blueberries—and I'm sure you won't if you are as partial to blueberry pie as I am.

Cool, minty jelly—a green shade—and pimento cheese make interesting flavor and color combination for ribbon sandwiches.

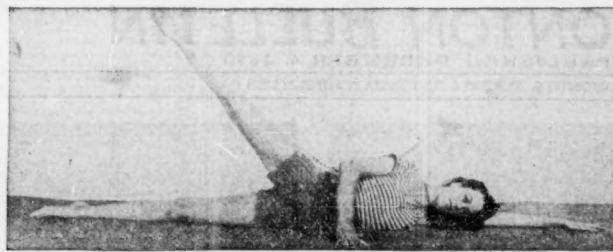

You can completely outfit your little people from the time they are born 'til they reach the time of age of seven or so in the new baby and Jill shop.

Wealth of baby gifts there, too. Boon to busy mothers. They can do all their baby-shopping right in the one shop.

Clothing allowance a wee bit delicate. Well, stretch the miserable of thing out to gigantic proportions—and fool the public at the same time.

Simply whip up a few "make-your-own's."

Buy three yards or so of dependable cotton—you can get it for 60c and up—and when a little concentration with the needle and you're well away.

For that hollow just below the waistline and bulging thighs, Dorothy Malone demonstrates the position you take to do the corrective exercise Josephine Lowman gives you today.

WHY GROW OLD

Exercises Will Reduce Hips

By Josephine Lowman

A reader writes, "The hips I am now wearing are too big for me and I would like to exchange them for more suitable ones. I know this is impossible, so could you help me do the old ones over? Could you include a diet designed for reducing the hips, as well as exercises?"

It would be fine if we could take our hips down town and buy new ones at a store! It is not so easy as that! Yet it really is not difficult to do the old ones over so they look like 16-year-old, new ones.

There is no special diet which will reduce any certain portion of the body. If you are generally overweight you will need diet as well as exercise. If you have the correct number of pounds, but an out of proportion hips, you can remedy that with exercise.

Recently, I have given exercises for the back hips. Today I will discuss the almost universal figure fault of women over 30, and often even younger. I am speaking of the hollow between the thighs, the hip line, the waist and the jawline bulging thighs.

There is some fatty accumulation involved but this is a primary question of muscle slump. Exercise is the only remedy. Today I will give you a few for this defect.

1. Lie on the floor on your left side. Place your right hand on the floor in front of you, and do leg raising with your left leg, knee stiff.

2. Take the same starting position. Make large circles with your right leg. Turn onto the right side and circle with your left leg.

3. Lie on the floor on your back, with your arms resting on the floor straight out from your shoulders. Swing your right leg sideways, keeping the heel close to the floor. Swing it back.

Continue with this side swinging. After a while, swing your right leg sideways, heel close to the floor. Swing it back. Continue.

If you wish to have my leaflet for thigh reducing and smoothing, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 4 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mother Finds Answer
Baby's Upset Tummy

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Two letters in the same mail gave the same solution for persistent vomiting of the child from birth to eight and nine months. These were written in response to a letter by Mrs. M. H. H. whose problem is a common one.

Mrs. A.M.D. writes: "My little boy is now two years of age and until he was eight months old he was a chronic vomiter. My father-in-law who is a doctor, changed the baby's formula several times. Then I had him examined by a pediatrician. But all of this did not help him at all."

"He vomited nearly all his milk three, sometimes four hours after he had a meal. Finally, eight months after he was born, I stopped giving him a formula and gave him plain, homogenized milk. From that day to this he has never spit up one drop of his food."

"Mrs. C. has much the same thing to say—as had another correspondent—and she writes: "We had him to all kinds of doctors and experimented with soda, with hydrochloric acid, with ascorbic acid (instead of orange juice) and all kinds of formulas."

"What do you think made him stop vomiting? We had used both corn syrup and malosse in his formulas but as soon as we took ALL sugar out of it, he was perfectly all right."

"You just can't imagine how terrible it is to have a baby vomiting constantly—and I know people thought I was exaggerating when I told them about it."

"No one of whom we asked advice ever suggested the sugar might be the cause. I hope some other mother of a vomiting baby gets help from this."

There always has to be a reason for everything. The most possible one, in these cases, was that

Jean Rooney Is Honored at Tea

To honor Jean Rooney, bride-elect of June, Mrs. G. Caddell entertained at a tenuous tea at her home recently. More than 75 guests called during the afternoon.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. Caddell, Mrs. Patrick Rooney, mother of the bride-elect, and Jean Rooney.

Presiding at the tea were Mrs. J. Steele Smith and Mrs. Charles H. Grant.

Mrs. W. H. Moore was in charge of the dining room. Those assisting in serving were Mrs. R. Gordon Wright, Mrs. F. A. Preston, Mrs. H. L. Richards, Mrs. E. H. Carson, Shirley Aiken and Beth Mawerty.

Patricia Rooney showed the tenuous and was in charge of the guest book.

This might have been coincident with the removal of the virus. At any rate, it is another way in which a mother might try to deal with this annoying habit. But there are so many reasons for vomiting, one mustn't look upon this as a universal panacea.

Our leaflet No. 32, "Vomiting," suggests some of the reasons why babies vomit. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Most Brides Suffer
Pre-Marriage Blues

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am supposed to get married within a couple of weeks and I can't make up my mind. I get the most nervous feeling and I do not know if it is against my fiancé, or if it is the thought of getting tied up for life.

I think I love my sweetheart, who is everything that is good and fine, and I can't bear to think of life without him, but I am afraid to try it with him.

What shall I do? Will I be happy if I get married?

IN A PANIC.
ANSWER: Almost every man and woman goes through the same experience that you are having on the eve of marriage.

They get into a panic in which they lose all perspective and which leaves them uncertain of their own feelings and what is best to do. They are so appalled at the finality of what they are about to do that their very bones turn to water.

They can see nothing but the dangers of marriage that loom sinister and dark before them. And, most of all, they feel the fetters snapping on their wrists and the horror of losing their freedom becomes an obsession, and for the moment they feel that no man or woman is worth the sacrifice that marriage entails.

FEELING IS GENERAL.

There are not many brides and grooms who, if they told the truth, would not admit that they spend their bridal eve in a blue funk, and that if they could have made a decent getaway they would have done so.

But even greater than their fear of marriage was the fear of gossip and the disapprobation of their friends, and so conventions drove them on to the altar, and once the marriage was an accomplished fact, all the burgooins their imaginations had conjured up, vanished into thin air, and they started forth joyfully on their honeymoon.

Social Security Plan Advocated by Women

Prime Minister Urged to Introduce Security Plan Before Retirement

OTTAWA, June 3.—(CP)—A group of women from the west are here to urge Prime Minister Mackenzie King to introduce a "contributory social security plan" as his final offering to Canada before retiring from office.

Mrs. Jean McDonald of Calgary, president of the three-year-old national social security association, is head of a delegation which has arrived in the capital complete with brief and high hopes of obtaining an interview with Mr. King.

The women already have made the rounds of parliamentary members, and have seen welfare minister Martin.

"We told Paul Martin the greatest monument that can be left to the prime minister's memory is not one of bronze, or marble—but a monument of contributory social security for all the people of Canada—from the cradle to the grave," said Mrs. D. A. Anderson of Calgary, treasurer of the NSSA, which describes itself as "non-political and non-sectarian."

Mrs. McDonald said at present the position of many older married women in Canada was "pathetic." "You marry a man who's contributing to a pension fund—but when he retires that pension is not enough for him and his wife to live on," she said.

She added that in Calgary there "must be 500 or 600 cases" where the man was drawing a $37-a-month old age pension—all the income for him and his wife.

The two others making up the four-woman delegation are Mrs. Ethel Davidson of Medicine Hat, Alta., and Mrs. Lillian Clarke, Calgary.

Penalty on Taxes Arrears Protested

Govt. Refuses to Withdraw Plans Announced in Budget

By D'Arcy O'Donnell
OTTAWA, June 3.—(CP)—The Progressive Conservative party "bought unsuccessfully yesterday to have the government withdraw or at least modify its plans to increase the penalties on income tax arrears."

D. King Hazen (P.C.—St. John's) spearheaded the drive with two amendments. Both ruled out of order, but one of the rulings set off a division which saw Deputy Speaker Ross Macdonald uphold 95 to 48.

The amendments were to a budget resolution increasing from four to six per cent the pro-cessment penalty on income tax arrears. Hazen moved first that the existing rate be left unchanged. When that failed he moved that the increased rate apply only from the date the assessment is mailed by the revenue department to the taxpayer.

SAID "UNACCEPTABLE"
Macdonald said the amendments were out of order because they would upset the balance of the ways and means by which the government planned to raise revenues during the current fiscal year.

Finance Minister Abbott said that in any event the amendments were unacceptable to the government. A great number of Canadians, he said, are underpaying their income tax because the penalties are not sufficiently harsh.

At present a penalty of four per cent interest is charged on unpaid balances. The charge is increased to seven per cent if the balance has not been paid within 30 days after the revenue department has sent the taxpayer an assessment.

TELLS OF CHARGES
As a result of the change in the budget, the pre-assessment interest penalty will be six per cent. Eight per cent will apply on balances still unpaid 90 days after the assessment has been sent the taxpayer.

The five-per-cent interest penalty applied against those who fail to file their income tax returns on time will continue.

Abbott said the penalties on unpaid balances will apply only to 1948 income on which tax will have to be paid by April 30, 1949. They will not apply to 1947 income, returns on which were due May 31.

FAWNS SHOULD BE LEFT ALONE

CONCORD, N.H., June 3.—(AP)—Don't pick up a baby deer because you think it may have been abandoned by its mother.
The State Fish and Game Department warned New Hampshire residents today that people who pick up fawns destroy forever the chance that the baby deer might have to grow up and take care of itself in the woods.

Once a baby deer is touched by human hands or even approached by humans, the fawn's mother will never return, the department said.
Even if you think the fawn is abandoned, chances are the mother is somewhere in the vicinity.

KAMLOOBS, B.C., June 3.—(CP)—The asphyxiated body of 30-year-old Mrs. H. F. Kiesel was found in her home here yesterday. Her 45-year-old husband, a retired railway telegrapher, lay in the living room with three deep wounds in his throat. He is expected to live. No charges have been laid.

ALDRIDGE, June 3.—(CP)—Frederick Kerr Morrison, 61, was killed instantly yesterday when he was thrown from a wagon load of rock on his farm near here and crushed by one of the wheels.
